Scale For ClimateTech Manufacturing Bootcamp 2022

The Manufacturing Bootcamp takes hardware climate tech founders through a four-day curriculum and assesment covering in-depth best practices and processes to scale their manufcaturing process. Using the Manufacturing Readiness Levels (MRL) established by the Department of Defense, teams learn where they currently are in the MRL threads and identify tangible steps to commercialization. In addition, teams undergo greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions assesment in partnership with the New York State Pollution Prevention Institute.
